INGLÉS · NIVEL A1 · CUADERNO IMPRIMIBLE

Basic English sentence order A1: subject, verb, object, place and time

Build the sentence from the centre out: identify the subject, choose the verb frame, add the object or complement, and place location and time where the reader can process them naturally.

META DE LA LECCIÓN

Build clear A1 statements with an explicit subject and a controlled S-V-O / S-be-complement architecture.

MODELO

Nora studies English at home every evening. / Nora is tired after class.

Al terminar podrás

1. Build affirmative SVO clauses
2. Use be with a complement rather than an object
3. Place location and time naturally
4. Repair common Spanish-to-English order errors

01 · COMPRENDER

La idea esencial

English normally requires an explicit subject and a stable clause core. This lesson shows how subject, verb, object, complement, place and time fit together, why Spanish word order cannot be copied freely, and how to expand a short sentence without losing its structure.

Start with the clause core

The safest A1 sentence begins with a visible subject and a finite verb. English uses this core even when Spanish can omit the subject.

After the core, add only the object or complement that the verb allows. Study can take English; be takes a description or identity.

Frame	Use	Example
S + V	complete intransitive action	The class starts.
S + V + O	action on an object	Nora opens the book.
S + be + complement	identity or description	Nora is ready.

Separate lexical verbs from be

Be is already a complete finite verb: she is tired. Do not add do to an ordinary statement with be.

A lexical verb carries the action: she works here. Its negatives and questions use do or does, not a form of be.

Meaning	Correct	Avoid
state	She is tired.	She does tired.
action	She works here.	She is work here.
identity	He is a student.	He studies a student.

Build the object zone

A transitive verb needs or permits an object. The object normally follows the verb and does not move before it in a neutral statement.

Pronouns occupy the same object position: Nora calls Amir; Nora calls him. This creates a stable reference chain.

Subject	Verb	Object
Nora	reads	the message
We	need	a table
They	call	her

Place and time without a Spanish calque

At A1, place commonly comes before a broad time expression: I study at home every evening. This is a reliable neutral order.

A short time anchor can also open the sentence: On Monday, we study at home. The comma helps the reader recognise the frame.

Neutral end position	Fronted time
We meet at school on Monday.	On Monday, we meet at school.
She works in Bogotá every summer.	Every summer, she works in Bogotá.

Keep required subjects visible

English ordinary clauses need a grammatical subject. Weather and time use it; existence uses there.

These words do not translate a concrete object. They hold the subject position so the sentence has a complete English frame.

Function	Pattern	Example
weather	it + be	It is cold.
time	it + be	It is six o'clock.
existence	there + be	There are two cafés.

Expand in a controlled order

Add one layer at a time: Nora studies; Nora studies English; Nora studies English at home; Nora studies English at home every evening.

If the sentence becomes difficult, remove the optional layers and verify the core before rebuilding it.

Layer	Sentence
core	Nora studies.
object	Nora studies English.
place	Nora studies English at home.
time	Nora studies English at home every evening.

Read questions as a different architecture

A question changes the front of the clause but preserves the remaining order. Do you study English at home? keeps subject, verb and object after do.

With be, move be before the subject: Is Nora ready? Never add do to that frame.

Statement	Question
You study here.	Do you study here?
Nora is ready.	Is Nora ready?
They are at home.	Are they at home?

Use a final word-order audit

Check subject, finite verb, complement, place and time in that order. Then ask whether a question or negative requires an auxiliary.

The goal is not to force every sentence into one rigid line. It is to start from a dependable neutral frame and recognise the few controlled movements taught at A1.

Check	Question
subject	Who or what?
verb	What is finite?
complement	What does this verb require?
frame	Statement, negative or question?

From controlled form to real A1 communication

A learner controls Basic sentence order only when the form survives outside a single model sentence. Begin with the central contrast, rebuild it with a new subject and new vocabulary, and then place it inside a short exchange. The structure should remain accurate while the communicative details change.

Use a three-part review. First, name the intended meaning. Second, point to the word or position that carries that meaning. Third, read the whole sentence and check whether reference, agreement and register still fit the situation. This review turns a correct answer into a reusable A1 skill.

Do not judge the target form in isolation. Read the words immediately before and after it, identify the subject and the finite verb, and reconstruct the positive or neutral sentence when useful. This local context often explains an ending, an auxiliary, a determiner or a position that would otherwise seem arbitrary.

For independent study, complete one short stage at a time and record the reason for every correction. A useful note has three parts: the form you wrote, the form the sentence requires and the decision that separates them. Revisit that decision with a new example within twenty-four hours, then read both examples aloud and compare their rhythm with confidence.

Stage	Action	Success evidence
Recognise	identify the target decision	explains the meaning
Rebuild	change subject or vocabulary	keeps the pattern
Use	place it in a mini-dialogue	sounds complete
Review	correct and explain	names the controlling rule

La regla de una sola mirada

FÓRMULA

subject -> verb -> object or complement -> place -> time

Decide en este orden

1. Find who or what the sentence is about.
2. Choose a lexical verb or a form of be.
3. Add only the complement licensed by that verb.
4. Place manner close to the action when needed.
5. Place location before the broad time expression.
6. Keep the subject visible in ordinary statements.
7. Move only the element required by a question pattern.
8. Read the complete sentence for meaning and rhythm.

Decision	Pattern	Example
Core SVO	studies	Nora studies English every day.
Third person	takes	Amir takes the bus at seven.
Be + adjective	is	The classroom is quiet.
Be + noun	is	Lina is a teacher.
Object	a film	We watch a film after dinner.
Place then time	at home on Fridays	They work at home on Fridays.
Required subject	It	It is cold today.
Existence	There are	There are two cafés near the station.
Manner	slowly	She speaks English slowly.
