ENGLISH C1 · ADVANCED GRAMMAR

Extraposition and anticipatory it

Move heavy subject clauses to the end and use anticipatory it to create a readable information flow. The lesson connects form, meaning, register and real editorial decisions rather than treating the pattern as an isolated rule.

THE CENTRAL IDEA

Use extraposition and anticipatory it to delay complex information and place evaluation before the proposition it frames while preserving the intended meaning and register.

Move heavy subject clauses to the end and use anticipatory it to create a readable information flow.

MODEL

It is essential that the records remain accessible.

it + be + evaluation + to/that-clause | it + verb + that-clause

6 GUIDED STAGES · 30 LEARNING DECISIONS

This complete guide combines explanation, visual reasoning, practice and feedback. Separate exercise and answer-key editions are also available from the lesson page.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

|---|---|
| Outcome 1Recognise the main extraposition and anticipatory it patterns in authentic contexts. | Outcome 2Choose a form that accurately expresses delay complex information and place evaluation before the proposition it frames. |
| Outcome 3Avoid errors that change time, agency, emphasis or speaker commitment. | Outcome 4Use the structure appropriately in academic argument, formal recommendations and analytical reporting. |

Build meaning before form

Move heavy subject clauses to the end and use anticipatory it to create a readable information flow.

What extraposition and anticipatory it communicates

Move heavy subject clauses to the end and use anticipatory it to create a readable information flow.

The central purpose is to delay complex information and place evaluation before the proposition it frames. A successful choice therefore preserves the proposition while making the intended relationship, viewpoint or degree of commitment visible to the reader.

| It is essential that the records remain accessible. | an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position |
|---|---|
| It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. | an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective |
| It appears that the original estimate was too low. | a stance marker applied to a following proposition |

How the pattern is built

Use this working formula: it + be + evaluation + to/that-clause | it + verb + that-clause. The formula is a decision path: it identifies the trigger, the clause architecture and the element that carries tense or modality.

The model “It is essential that the records remain accessible.” shows the complete pattern in context. Rebuild the sentence from meaning to form instead of translating each word independently.

| Choice | Structure | Example |
|---|---|---|
| Evaluative extraposition | it + be + adjective + that-clause | It is essential that the records remain accessible. |
| Infinitive extraposition | it + be + adjective + to-infinitive | It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. |
| Reporting extraposition | it + reporting verb + that-clause | It appears that the original estimate was too low. |

Choose by meaning, not by surface similarity

Neighbouring structures may contain similar words but perform different jobs. Compare the three reference patterns and name the intended effect before completing the sentence.

A reliable answer explains both why the chosen form works and why a plausible alternative would change the meaning, time relation, information focus or level of certainty.

| Meaning | Best route |
|---|---|
| an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position | Evaluative extraposition |
| an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective | Infinitive extraposition |
| a stance marker applied to a following proposition | Reporting extraposition |

Register, discourse and editorial control

This grammar is especially useful in academic argument, formal recommendations and analytical reporting. Its value comes from helping the reader process a relationship efficiently, not from making the sentence sound artificially complex.

After editing, check recoverability, natural word order and consistency with the surrounding paragraph. If the marked structure creates ambiguity, return to a fuller or more neutral clause.

Reason through the pattern

The visual map moves from communicative purpose to structural trigger, then to the final clause. It keeps meaning and form visible at the same time so the learner can justify every choice.

DECIDE IN THIS ORDER

STEP 1

Decision 1

Identify the communicative purpose before selecting a form: delay complex information and place evaluation before the proposition it frames.

STEP 2

Decision 2

Locate the structural trigger and match it to one of the reference patterns.

STEP 3

Decision 3

Check time reference, clause relationships, agency and speaker commitment.

STEP 4

Decision 4

Read the complete sentence in context and confirm that its register suits academic argument, formal recommendations and analytical reporting.

STEP 5

Decision 5

Compare the result with a neutral alternative and keep the marked form only when it adds useful meaning.

Compare forms and meanings

Use the table to justify each structural choice.

| Pattern | Form | Model |
|---|---|---|
| Evaluative extraposition | it + be + adjective + that-clause | It is essential that the records remain accessible. |
| Infinitive extraposition | it + be + adjective + to-infinitive | It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. |
| Reporting extraposition | it + reporting verb + that-clause | It appears that the original estimate was too low. |

EXAMPLES AT A GLANCE

|---|---|
| It is essential that the records remain accessible. | an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position |
| It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. | an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective |
| It appears that the original estimate was too low. | a stance marker applied to a following proposition |

COMMON ERRORS

EDIT THIS

Avoid this pattern

Do not let anticipatory it refer to a concrete noun elsewhere in the sentence.

EDIT THIS

Avoid this pattern

Do not use a for-subject phrase when the agent is already obvious and unnecessary.

EDIT THIS

Avoid this pattern

Do not confuse anticipatory it with referential it.

Recognition in context

Choose the sentence whose grammar matches the stated communicative purpose.

A1 · MEANING DECISION 1

Which sentence best communicates this purpose: an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position?

OPTIONS It is essential that the records remain accessible. · It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. · It appears that the original estimate was too low.

A2 · MEANING DECISION 2

Which sentence best communicates this purpose: an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective?

OPTIONS It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. · It appears that the original estimate was too low. · It is essential that the records remain accessible.

A3 · MEANING DECISION 3

Which sentence best communicates this purpose: a stance marker applied to a following proposition?

OPTIONS It appears that the original estimate was too low. · It is essential that the records remain accessible. · It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently.

A4 · INTERPRETATION 4

What does “It is essential that the records remain accessible.” communicate in this context?

OPTIONS an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position · an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective · a stance marker applied to a following proposition

A5 · INTERPRETATION 5

What does “It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently.” communicate in this context?

OPTIONS an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective · a stance marker applied to a following proposition · an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position

A6 · INTERPRETATION 6

What does “It appears that the original estimate was too low.” communicate in this context?

OPTIONS a stance marker applied to a following proposition · an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position · an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective

STAGE CHECK

Pause before continuing

Underline the trigger or decision point, name the rule, and check that the meaning has not changed.

Recognition in context

Compare the form first, then read the explanation and name the rule in your own words.

A1

It is essential that the records remain accessible.

Evaluative extraposition is the best match because an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position.

A2

It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently.

Infinitive extraposition is the best match because an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective.

A3

It appears that the original estimate was too low.

Reporting extraposition is the best match because a stance marker applied to a following proposition.

A4

an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position

The Evaluative extraposition pattern communicates an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position.

A5

an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective

The Infinitive extraposition pattern communicates an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective.

A6

a stance marker applied to a following proposition

The Reporting extraposition pattern communicates a stance marker applied to a following proposition.

Form and function

Compare the form first, then read the explanation and name the rule in your own words.

B1

Evaluative extraposition / an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position

The structure belongs to the Evaluative extraposition pattern. Its communicative purpose is an evaluation followed by a proposition in end position.

Infinitive extraposition / an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective

The structure belongs to the Infinitive extraposition pattern. Its communicative purpose is an evaluation of an action placed after the adjective.

Reporting extraposition / a stance marker applied to a following proposition

The structure belongs to the Reporting extraposition pattern. Its communicative purpose is a stance marker applied to a following proposition.

Guided discourse choices

Compare the form first, then read the explanation and name the rule in your own words.

C1

It is essential that the records remain accessible.

Evaluative extraposition: it + be + adjective + that-clause.

C2

It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently.

Infinitive extraposition: it + be + adjective + to-infinitive.

C3

It appears that the original estimate was too low.

Reporting extraposition: it + reporting verb + that-clause.

C4

It is essential that the records remain accessible.

Evaluative extraposition: it + be + adjective + that-clause.

C5

It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently.

Infinitive extraposition: it + be + adjective + to-infinitive.

C6

It appears that the original estimate was too low.

Reporting extraposition: it + reporting verb + that-clause.

Open reconstruction

Compare the form first, then read the explanation and name the rule in your own words.

D1

It is essential that

Evaluative extraposition requires “It is essential that” in this model. it + be + adjective + that-clause.

D2

It was difficult to reproduce

Infinitive extraposition requires “It was difficult to reproduce” in this model. it + be + adjective + to-infinitive.

D3

It appears that

Reporting extraposition requires “It appears that” in this model. it + reporting verb + that-clause.

D4

it + be + adjective + that-clause

Evaluative extraposition is built as it + be + adjective + that-clause.

D5

it + be + adjective + to-infinitive

Infinitive extraposition is built as it + be + adjective + to-infinitive.

Controlled transformation

Compare the form first, then read the explanation and name the rule in your own words.

E1

It is essential that the records remain accessible.

it + be + adjective + that-clause. The rewrite preserves the core message while adding the intended evaluative extraposition effect.

E2

It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently.

it + be + adjective + to-infinitive. The rewrite preserves the core message while adding the intended infinitive extraposition effect.

E3

It appears that the original estimate was too low.

it + reporting verb + that-clause. The rewrite preserves the core message while adding the intended reporting extraposition effect.

E4

It is essential that the records remain accessible.

it + be + adjective + that-clause. The rewrite preserves the core message while adding the intended evaluative extraposition effect.

Communicative production

Compare the form first, then read the explanation and name the rule in your own words.

F1

It is essential that the records remain accessible. The surrounding context would then state the same situation in neutral order or with a less marked commitment.

A strong response uses it + be + adjective + that-clause accurately and makes the communicative purpose visible in context.

F2

It was difficult to reproduce the error consistently. The surrounding context would then state the same situation in neutral order or with a less marked commitment.

A strong response uses it + be + adjective + to-infinitive accurately and makes the communicative purpose visible in context.

F3

It appears that the original estimate was too low. The surrounding context would then state the same situation in neutral order or with a less marked commitment.

A strong response uses it + reporting verb + that-clause accurately and makes the communicative purpose visible in context.
