ENGLISH C2 · ADVANCED GRAMMAR

Given-new cohesion

Sequence lexical repetition, reference, substitution and thematic progression so each sentence grows from accessible information. The lesson connects form, meaning, register and real editorial decisions rather than treating the pattern as an isolated rule.

THE CENTRAL IDEA

Use given-new cohesion to create coherent paragraph movement without monotonous repetition or abrupt topic shifts while preserving the intended meaning and register.

Sequence lexical repetition, reference, substitution and thematic progression so each sentence grows from accessible information.

MODEL

The review identified a funding gap. This gap, in turn, affected staffing.

given anchor -> new contribution -> next given anchor

6 GUIDED STAGES · 30 LEARNING DECISIONS

This complete guide combines explanation, visual reasoning, practice and feedback. Separate exercise and answer-key editions are also available from the lesson page.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

OUTCOME 1

01

Recognise the main given-new cohesion patterns in authentic contexts.

OUTCOME 2

02

Choose a form that accurately expresses create coherent paragraph movement without monotonous repetition or abrupt topic shifts.

03

Avoid errors that change time, agency, emphasis or speaker commitment.

OUTCOME 4

04

Use the structure appropriately in advanced exposition, argument and long-form professional writing.

Build meaning before form

Sequence lexical repetition, reference, substitution and thematic progression so each sentence grows from accessible information.

What given-new cohesion communicates

Sequence lexical repetition, reference, substitution and thematic progression so each sentence grows from accessible information.

The central purpose is to create coherent paragraph movement without monotonous repetition or abrupt topic shifts. A successful choice therefore preserves the proposition while making the intended relationship, viewpoint or degree of commitment visible to the reader.

The programme expanded rapidly. It also attracted new partners.	one established topic developed through successive comments
The review identified a funding gap. This gap, in turn, affected staffing.	a new element recycled as the next sentence's anchor
The reform had two consequences. Costs fell, while access widened.	several subthemes organised under one established frame

How the pattern is built

Use this working formula: given anchor -> new contribution -> next given anchor. The formula is a decision path: it identifies the trigger, the clause architecture and the element that carries tense or modality.

The model "The review identified a funding gap. This gap, in turn, affected staffing." shows the complete pattern in context. Rebuild the sentence from meaning to form instead of translating each word independently.

Choice	Structure	Example
Constant theme	same theme + changing rheme	The programme expanded rapidly. It also attracted new partners.
Linear progression	new information becomes next theme	The review identified a funding gap. This gap, in turn, affected staffing.
Derived themes	related subtopics from a shared superordinate topic	The reform had two consequences. Costs fell, while access widened.

Choose by meaning, not by surface similarity

Neighbouring structures may contain similar words but perform different jobs. Compare the three reference patterns and name the intended effect before completing the sentence.

A reliable answer explains both why the chosen form works and why a plausible alternative would change the meaning, time relation, information focus or level of certainty.

Meaning	Best route
one established topic developed through successive comments	Constant theme
a new element recycled as the next sentence's anchor	Linear progression
several subthemes organised under one established frame	Derived themes

Register, discourse and editorial control

This grammar is especially useful in advanced exposition, argument and long-form professional writing. Its value comes from helping the reader process a relationship efficiently, not from making the sentence sound artificially complex.

After editing, check recoverability, natural word order and consistency with the surrounding paragraph. If the marked structure creates ambiguity, return to a fuller or more neutral clause.

Reason through the pattern

The visual map moves from communicative purpose to structural trigger, then to the final clause. It keeps meaning and form visible at the same time so the learner can justify every choice.

01

given anchor -> new contribution -> next given anchor

DECIDE IN THIS ORDER

STEP 1

Decision 1

Identify the communicative purpose before selecting a form: create coherent paragraph movement without monotonous repetition or abrupt topic shifts.

STEP 2

Decision 2

Locate the structural trigger and match it to one of the reference patterns.

STEP 3

Decision 3

Check time reference, clause relationships, agency and speaker commitment.

STEP 4

Decision 4

Read the complete sentence in context and confirm that its register suits advanced exposition, argument and long-form professional writing.

STEP 5

Decision 5

Compare the result with a neutral alternative and keep the marked form only when it adds useful meaning.

Compare forms and meanings

Use the table to justify each structural choice.

Pattern	Form	Model
Constant theme	same theme + changing rheme	The programme expanded rapidly. It also attracted new partners.
Linear progression	new information becomes next theme	The review identified a funding gap. This gap, in turn, affected staffing.
Derived themes	related subtopics from a shared superordinate topic	The reform had two consequences. Costs fell, while access widened.
